ARRANGEMENTS ARE COMPLETE

All Trains Will be Met Tuesday and Wednesday to Escort Conference Visitors to Church.

REST TENT ERECTED TODAY

Rev. W. H. Wylie Will Not Return to
St. Paul's Church Next Year,
He Announces Sunday.

Arrangements were completed today for the reception of the visitors who will come tomorrow for the annual session of the Indiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

A tent which will be used as a rest room and writing room by the visiting ministers were erected back of the church where the old parsonage was located. A telephone has been installed and book shelves placed in the primary Sunday school room in the church for book display.

Arrangements have been made for automobiles to meet all trains and interurban cars entering the city Tuesday afternoon and evening and Wednesday morning. Dr. Frank M.
Sparks is in charge of this branch of the work.

A committee of women, in charge of Mrs. R. G. Budd, is attending to the church decorations and the flowers. H. C. Flint is arranging for ushers for the church. There will be an information booth in the church in charge of James Lock. The mail of the visiting clergymen will also be distributed here also.

The registration committee probably has the most important task.
Assignment cards have been prepared, and on the arrival of any minister, he is given the card which designates where he shall stay. Members of the Holy Grail and of the Sunday school will direct the visitors to the homes where they will stay, and where the distance is too far, automobiles will be used.

The Rev. W. H. Wylie, pastor of St. Paul's church, announced yesterday after the regular sermon that he would not return to the Rushville church next year. He explained that he did not expect to be returned, although he would, of course, if Bishop William F. Anderson said he should.
It is not his judgement, however, that he will return.

The minister said that he censured
no one, but he felt that he should

Head of New Albany District

REV. W. M. WHITSETT.

The Rev. Mr. Whitsett is expected to arrive some time tomorrow for the Indiana conference for his home in New Albany. He is the superintendent of the New Albany district.

MISS MAUDE SPENCER DEAD

Expired After Brief Illness at Home Near Arlington.

Miss Maude Spencer, 20 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Spencer, died Saturday night about ten o'clock at the home of her parents, south of Arlington. Miss Spencer had been in poor health for some time, but was not taken seriously ill until last Thursday. The cause of death was diabetes. Besides her parents, she is survived by four sisters.
The funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon in the Arlington Christian church and burial will take place in the East Hill cemetery
there.

BIRTHDAY BRINGS A DEATH MESSAGE

Ninety-Second Anniversary is Day of Sadness Instead of Gladness
For Mrs. Martha Cook.

HER BROTHER DIES IN MARION

Mrs. Martha Cook, mother of Mrs.
Lon H. Havens, corner of Main and Seventh streets, celebrated her ninety-second birthday Sunday, but the day brought sadness instead of gladness because she received word in the morning of the death of her brother, Mordecai Unthank, age ninety years, at his home in Marion.

Mr. Unthank suffered a stroke of paralysis Thursday, and because of his advanced age, no hope was held out for his recovery. Mrs. Cook was the oldest child in a family of nine children and Mr. Unthank was the second child. His death leaves only Mrs. Cook of the large family. The other seven children are dead.

Although well advanced in years,
Mrs. Cook is very active for one of her age. Her birthday was very quietly observed yesterday. Only Mr.
and Mrs. William Gregg, of Indianapolis, were present. Mrs. Gregg is a daughter of Mrs. Cook's.

IMPORTANT CASE SENT TO THIS COURT

Case of Kokomo Trust Company Against Moses Vandenberg to be Tried Here.

IS FILED IN HENRY COUNTY

The celebrated case of the Kokomo Trust company against Moses Vandenberg of Knightstown, according to the Newcastle Courier, was sent to Rush county from the Henry circuit court on a change of venue.
Attorneys for the trust company were in court Saturday and announced that the Kokomo company was not interested in the case at the present time and that another bank in Kokomo had taken the matter up together with W. H. Turner, former owner of the Lion store at Anderson,
for which it is alleged Vandenberg paid a fabulous price.

The attorneys for the plaintiff entered a strenuous objection to the local court taking any action whatever on the receivership case and Judge Jackson said he would let the Rush county court rule on the question of jurisdiction.

It will be recalled that Vandenberg was recently declared insane and incapable of attending to his affairs
after paying such a large price for the Anderson store.

DEATH DUE TO BLOOD POISON

Mrs. Sarah D. Garner, Age 61 Years, Dies in Orange Township Following 5 Days' Illness.

LIVED IN COUNTY ALL HER LIFE

Small Growth in Her Nose She Thought a Boil Appeared Only
Last Monday Morning.

The funeral services of Mrs. Sarah D. Garner, age sixty-one years, who died at her home in Orange township Saturday night, will be held at ten o'clock Tuesday morning at the Gowdy M. E. church, with the Rev.
Mr. Lewis of St. Paul officiating.
Burial will be made in the Moscow cemetery.

Mrs. Garner was sick only five days. The physician pronounced her death due to blood poisoning. Mrs.
Garner first became ill last Monday,
her affliction being at first what she considered nothing more serious than a small boil inside her nose. She sought a physician's advice, however,
and he, too, thought that it was of little consequence.

Later when he was called for again
he had gone to the state fair, and another was summoned. Mrs.
Garner steadily grew worse until Thursday, when Dr. J. C. Sexton, was called into consultation, and at once announced that there remained no hope of saving her life.

Mrs. Garner was sixty-one years old, lacking but a few hours, Sunday being her birthday. She was born near Rushville, and all her life was spent in this county. She was widely known and highly respected, and her untimely death causes much sorrow.
She was long a dependable member of the Ebenezer M. E. church.

Mrs. Garner is survived by two children, one son, Ray, at home, and one daughter, Mrs. Rezin Roberts, who resides on a farm near to and owned by her mother. She also leaves three brothers, William and George Alter, of Kokomo, and John Alter, of Orange township, and she was a sister-in-law of the Rev. J. T. Scull, Sr.
of near Milroy.

TUBERCULOSIS IS FATAL

Claims Mrs. Reko Boyer After Long Illness.

Mrs. Alta E. Boyer, 20 years old, wife of Reko Boyer, died this morning at two o'clock at her home in West Third street after a long illness from tuberculosis. Mrs. Boyer had been in a serious condition for the past several days and death was expected. She is survived by her husband and one child. Her father James L. Mary also survives. The funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at the late residence 940 West Third street by the Rev. W. H. Wylie. The remains will be taken to Shelbyville for burial.

POLICEMAN SHOCKED.

Policeman John Wolter received a severe shock Saturday night when he picked up a live wire at the corner of Morgan and Seventh streets. A guy wire dropped down from one of the L. & C. poles and in some manner was charged. Wolters took hold of it in getting it off the sidewalk. Wolter was held fast but had presence enough of mind to jump off the ground breaking the circuit. Wolters does not care for this kind of a live wire.

MORE IS WASTED THAN MARKETING

Such is Condition of Most Bountiful Fruit Crop in the History of Rush County.

APPLES ROTTING ON GROUND

Whole Orchards Lost Because of Neglect. Farmers Especially Blessed This Year.

While Rush county is gathering in its harvest this fall, it has not stopped to reflect that it was never blessed more.

The corn gives promise of being the best Rush county ever produced;
the wheat, although the acreage was small, was better in quality and average yield than ever before in the county's history; the apple crop was never more bountiful; the peach crop is plentiful enough to meet the demands of the whole county; the pear and plum crops are estimated to be the largest the county ever saw;
the ground is in the best condition farmers ever saw for the sowing of wheat; potatoes is the only crop that is short.

With all this fruit crop is being wasted. It is generally estimated that much more fruit will go to waste in Rush county than is marketed. Farmers do not give their time from their regular duties to attend to their fruit. It has never been counted a regular work on the farm and farmers allow the fruit to fall on the ground and rot rather than pick it and place it on the market which is offering very good prices, considering the abundance of the crop.

An example cited: A farmer living southwest of the city was working on a county bridge job at two dollars and a half a day. He had six apple trees on his farm which were bending under the weight of the fruit. A local shipper offered the farmer fifty cents a bushel for the apples, providing he would pick them and haul them to Rushville. It is estimated the six trees contained a hundred and fifty bushels. At fifty cents a bushel the six trees were worth seventy-five dollars. It would have taken approximately two days to pick the apples and a day to haul them to Rushville. This would have made the farmer twenty-five dollars a day, yet he preferred to work on this job at two dollars and a half a day and let the fruit go to waste.

In spite of this attitude that many farmers take toward the fruit crop, nine car loads of apples have been shipped out this season by U. G.
Beaver and three more car loads will be shipped this week. He finds the best market in Louisville, Kentucky.
He has shipped some smaller quantities of other fruit.

Mr. Beaver says that the potato is the only crop in Rush county that is short this year. He has been all over Rush county buying fruit and has become acquainted with the true conditions. Mr. Beaver will ship in potatoes from Wisconsin and Michigan where the crop is as plentiful as the apples here.

Some farmers pay attention to their fruit and have reaped a harvest from this side of farming. John M.
Beaver of near Glenwood, who makes fruit growing—especially apples—a business, will have shipped out of the county about twenty-five hundred bushels before the season closes.
Jack Reed, living just east of Glenwood, will ship out about three thousand bushels this season. Dave Segriest of Laurel will sell about fifteen thousand bushels this season,
all of them Ben Davis. George Looney and John Barber will sell about five hundred bushel and J. C. King

TWO MORE WERE ARRESTED

Police Continue to Find Autos Without Numbers.

Charles Utsler, living in the southern part of the county, was arrested Saturday night by Chief McAllister because the auto he was driving did not have the new state license numbers. He paid his fine of one dollar and costs to Squire Kratzer.

The auto belonging to Fred Knecht was found late Saturday night without any numbers and Knecht arrested. He promised to appear before the squire tonight and was allowed to go home. The police continue their crusade on auto owners running without licenses and more arrests are promised.

JAMES M. MILLER DIES SUDDENLY

Well Known Aged Man Succumbs to Heart Disease at Home Near Richland.

LEAVES WIDOW AND 2 CHILDREN

James M. Miller, a well known farmer, living east of Richland, died suddenly yesterday morning from heart disease. Mr. Miller apparently was in his usual health and after doing the morning chores came to the house. He engaged in conversation with Mrs. Miller and while sitting in front of the fire suffered an attack
from the heart and died before Mrs.
Miller reached his side. Mr. Miller was eighty-five years old. He was not subject to heart trouble and only last May underwent an operation for kidney disease. At that time his heart was pronounced good by the attending physicians.

Besides the widow he is survived by two children—Mrs. Edgar Thomas of Milroy, and Mrs. Harlow of Fort Worth, Texas. He is also survived by two brothers—William Miller of New Salem, and Henry Miller of Tipton county, and two sisters—Mrs.
Mary Alexander of Franklin, and Mrs. George Golay of near Sandusky.
The funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence, and burial will take place in the Methodist cemetery in Richland.

150 AT THE ANNUAL HILLIGOSS REUNION

Six States Are Represented at Family
Gathering at Rush County Fair Grounds Sunday.

THORNTOWN MAN, PRESIDENT

Approximately a hundred and fifty people attended the annual Hilligoss reunion which was held at the fair grounds yesterday. Among the most prominent members of the family from a distance were Dr. Hilligoss of Cincinnati, Ohio and Silas Steele of Iowa. Six states in the Union were represented at the reunion. The big dinner at noon was enjoyed.

The next reunion will be held at the city park the second Sunday in September. All previous reunions have been held at the fair grounds.
Webster Hilligoss of Thorntown, Indiana, was elected president and Dora Hilligoss living southeast of the city was elected vice-president. Bert Osborn was re-elected secretary.

BLAIN REYNOLDS IS SENT TO JAIL

Lewisville Terror is Fined $50 and Costs and Will Have to Serve Thirty Days.

COURT'S ACTION A SURPRISE

Reynolds Declares That Editor of Lewisville Road Traveler Picked Quarrel.

Because of the disturbance in Lewisville the other night, when Blaine Reynolds and Robert Peele mixed things up in general and promiscuous manner, Reynolds received a fine of $50 and costs and was given a sentence of thirty days in jail, says
the New Castle Times.

The fine and the sentence was a severe jolt to Reynolds, who was led to believe that the court was going to deal leniently with him again, and the sentence of the court caused him to sit up and take notice and swallow hard two or three times.

When arraigned on the charge of assault and battery, Reynolds admitted that he was guilty of striking Peele. He said that Peele was in the habit of carrying a gun; that he had threatened to shoot him and that Peele was the aggressor in the fight which had occurred. He also said the editor of the National Road Traveler, in an intoxicated condition, had picked the quarrel. He said, too, that Peele told him he had a supply of beer at the printing office and invited him to join him in a social drink.

The court did not like the idea of accepting the statement of Reynolds in the absence of Peele, and Deputy Sheriff Yost made a statement of the arrest. He testified that he did not believe that Reynolds was intoxicated, but that Peele was.

The court told Reynolds that he had been leniently dealt with upon a number of occasions and that it was up to him to conduct himself properly in the future. Reynolds admitted all that, and informed the court that he had always appreciated the treatment accorded him. He said: "I've been treated fine every time."

Judge Jackson said: "Under the circumstances you will be fined $50 and costs and sentenced to serve thirty days in jail. Upon the motion of the prosecuting attorney the intoxication charge will be dismissed."

And Reynolds went back to jail.

FATHER AND SON ARE RECONCILED

Sensational Hanley Incident Regarded Closed.

BOTH ASKED FORGIVENESS

Head of Franklin College, Returning to Parental Home, in Which a Few Days Before He Had Chastised His Father For Latter's Treatment of His Mother, Became the Center of a Most Affecting Scene.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 15.—Members of the Calvin Hanley family who witnessed the recent assault committed by Dr. Elijah A. Hanley, president of Franklin college, upon his aged father, were subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury today. Included in the list of witnesses called to testify were Mrs. Calvin Hanley, mother of the head of Franklin college, and for whose protection the noted educator admits chastising his father; a son, daughter and daughter-in-law, with several neighbors and residents of Middletown.

Accompanied by the Rev. Clarke R. Parker, a member of the Franklin college board, Dr. Hanley motored to the home of his father, fourteen miles south of Terre Haute. In a most affecting scene father and son embraced each other and the members of the family circle wept tears of joy at the reconciliation.

Dr. Hanley came to Terre Haute in response to a telegram by Mr. Parker after publication of the report of his assault on his father. The elder Hanley welcomed his son with open arms, admitted that he had been "a hard old man, spoiled by having his own way," and pleaded for forgiveness. The son knelt before his father and asked the elder's blessing on his renewed pledge to devote his life to the loving care of father and mother. Before returning to Franklin Dr. Hanley expressed gratification at the happy ending of the incident which had furnished basis for sensational stories.

"It has been a big price," he said, "but if it means my mother's future happiness, I shall be glad to have paid it."

Mr. Parker said that the incident was closed as far as the college board was concerned. He expressed confidence that the matter would not be presented to the grand jury.

"A rough, excitable old man," he said, "a son indignant over years of mistreatment of his mother, an altercation, ready talebearers glad for a new story, widespread notoriety, a scene of general forgiveness and the case of Dr. E. A. Hanley and Calvin Hanley, his father, closes."

"That the injuries of Calvin Hanley are not so serious may be known from the fact that he hitched his horse to the family conveyance and took his wife and daughter-in-law to Middletown to do the Saturday marketing."

President Hanley issued a signed statement admitting the chastisement of his father because of long continued cruelty to his mother and an insult to his sister-in-law.

Dr. Hanley says he did not strike his father with a club, as alleged, but switched him about the hips and spanked him with the palms of his hands. He recited many instances covering years of extreme cruelty suffered by his mother. Dr. Hanley is one of the leading educators of Indiana and a former Baptist minister, at one time pastor of the John D. Rockefeller church in Cleveland, O.

JEWELRY IN SUIT CASES

Two Men Held in South Bend For Kentland Robbery.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 15.—Jack and Malcolm Montrose, twenty-five and thirty years old respectively, were arrested here charged with robbing the S. M. Noble jewelry store at Kentland, Ind., of $1,000 worth of jewelry during the latter part of August. The men were arrested as they were leaving a local express office with five suitcases in which jewelry was concealed.

The cases had been expressed to South Bend and had been held in the local office for several days awaiting claimants. The two men say that a mistake has been made. They admit their identity and also admit having been in Kentland at the time of the robbery. They make no attempt to explain how the jewelry came into their possession.

Packing Company's Serious Loss.
Marion, Ind., Sept. 15.—Fire destroyed two barns of the Ballard Packing company's plant in this city, causing a loss of $5100. Eleven hogs and a quantity of hay and grain were burned.

Were Train Wreckers at Work?
Muncie, Ind., Sept. 15.—The Knickerbocker train on the Big Four struck a large plank east of this city, and detectives are working on the theory that an attempt was made to wreck the train.

Costly Blaze in Warehouse.
Boonville, Ind., Sept. 15.—William Taylor's warehouse, full of hay and grain, was destroyed by fire. The losses will exceed $12,500. Sparks from a locomotive are assigned as the cause.

TEXAS TOWN SAID TO BE IN SERIOUS PERIL

Mexican Bandits Threaten to Make Reprisals.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Through Representative Garner of Texas the war department has received an urgent appeal for protection on behalf of the border town of Carrizo Springs. The citizens of this town fear an attack by friends of the Mexican bandits captured there a few days ago, and ask for a detachment of United States cavalry.

The war department referred the appeal to Brigadier General Bliss, commanding the American forces on the border, leaving it to his discretion to take whatever action seems necessary. It is not doubted that General Bliss will accede to the appeal from the Texas townsmen.

The Mexican situation remains unchanged so far as the administration's activities are concerned. Beyond caring for the routine matters, such as arranging for the transportation of Americans out of Mexico and responding to calls for representations to the Mexican government for protection to American life and property, there is nothing doing in the Mexican situation.

Officials are awaiting with interest tomorrow, when the Mexican congress meets to hear President Huerta's message, and when also will be held the national patriotic demonstration. Advance report received at the state department indicates that the government is finding it difficult to arouse much enthusiasm for the projected military demonstration.

Jury Convicts Samuel Woodsmall.
Sullivan, Ind., Sept. 15.—The jury in the case of Samuel Woodsmall, the Shelburn attorney, charged with conspiracy to defraud Mrs. Louella Mills of $200, found the defendant guilty. Woodsmall will receive an indeterminate sentence of two to fourteen years.

Crushed by His Own Wagon.
Evansville, Ind., Sept. 15.—Robert Bristow, driver of a city garbage wagon, was thrown from his wagon when descending a hill near the city and the wheels of the wagon passed over his body. He died of his injuries in two hours.

THE FUNERAL OF BOWERY'S CHIEF

Great Outpouring at "Big Tim's" Bier.

BROADCLOTH AND RAGS MINGLE

From the Days of Peter Stuyvesant Down to the Present It Is Considered Doubtful If the Bowery Ever Witnessed Anything More Interesting or Remarkable Than the Outpouring in Memory of Congressman Sullivan.

New York, Sept. 15.—The funeral of Congressman Timothy D. Sullivan, "Big Tim," the mystery of whose disappearance was cleared Saturday by the finding of his body in a morgue where it had lain unidentified for two weeks, was held this morning at old St. Patrick's cathedral. Sullivan, whose mental condition required a constant guard, had wandered away from the home of his brother in Westchester and had been killed by a train in Pelham parkway on Aug. 31. Just as preparations were being made to remove the body to the potter's field a policeman recognized it as the missing Bowery chief.

Speaker Clark had arranged for a congressional committee of twenty to attend the funeral. A little before 10 the body was taken to old St. Patrick's. After the service the funeral procession took its way toward Calvary cemetery, through Mott, Prince, Lafayette and Kenmare streets, and the Williamsburg bridge.

The Bowery paid its tribute to the memory of "Big Tim" on Sunday. It is true that persons of consequence as the world goes—judges and congressmen and merchants—came in fine clothes to pause by the body as it lay in the Sullivan clubhouse at 207 Bowery; but nineteen out of twenty of the 15,000 or 20,000 were of the East Side, of the districts that Big Tim gave to Tammany year after year.

By their code Timothy Sullivan was a great man. In his life they had obeyed him blindly while they took his charity publicly and privately. In his death they suffered very real grief. Hundreds thought—many said outright—"Now that Tim's gone, what will happen to us?"

The sidewalks were packed all day long and far into the night with men and women who stood silently gazing up at the windows of the room where the body rested. For nineteen hours there was a procession up the narrow stairs to the third floor, around the coffin and down again to the street, a shuffling and a subdued murmur that hardly varied as the hours passed.

Gentlemen in silk hats and fine raiment trod on the heels of unwashed bums from the lodging houses. Luxury and poverty rubbed elbows at Sullivan's coffin. Automobiles, scores of big cars, swept down the Bowery, wheeled just below the clubhouse, halted at the curb of 207 and let out women in furs and silks and diamonds, who accompanied up the stairs women from the tenement houses who carried crying babies or dragged with them children that hung back in the presence of death. From Peter Stuyvesant's day to Tim Sullivan's the Bowery has seen many extraordinary things. It is doubtful, however, if the old thoroughfare ever witnessed anything more interesting or remarkable than Sunday's outpouring.

Most of his relations were in the clubhouse making no effort to conceal their grief or their indignation over the carelessness that kept the body unidentified so long and nearly sent it to a pauper's grave. The anger and indignation burst through grief. Lawrence Mulligan, Big Tim's half-brother, produced the tag that had been tied to the body from Aug. 31 until Sept. 14. On the tag was written:

"Aug. 31, 1913. Received body of unknown man from 69th precinct. Man killed on New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad near Pelham parkway."

"An unknown man," Larry Mulligan said, the tears rolling down his cheeks. "Unknown man! Why, even the dogs in the street knew Tim. They let him lie there like a tramp. He would have been carted off to the potter's field today. We might have been looking for him twenty years."

And the thousands who went to see Sullivan felt about as Mulligan felt.

Last night Mr. Sullivan's relations and friends held the final wake over his body. There was nothing to drink. As John White said, whisky drinking belonged to the kind of wake that has gone out of style. And Big Tim was not a drinking man himself. The men smoked and told stories about Big Tim.

JEALOUSY PROMPTED ACT

Harry Rascio Shoots Wife and Son at Terre Haute.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 15.—Harry Rascio shot and killed his wife and two-year-old boy at the home of his wife's brother, Luther Benton. Jealousy, the police say, prompted his act.

Rascio and his wife lived in Vincennes, and she had been visiting her brother.

The body of the wife was found on the sidewalk. Patrolman Larry O'Donnell heard the first shot and arrested Rascio just after he had shot the baby. The murderer was sent to jail.

West Orange, N. J., Sept. 15.—Thomas A. Edison has been ordered by his physician never to take another vacation and has been ordered to remain away from his laboratory for another two weeks to recuperate from his recent fortnight in New England. This was Mr. Edison's first vacation in eight years and, according to the doctor, the inventor is more tired from his holiday than he ever was from working twenty hours a day.

AMERICAN REFUGEES IN SERIOUS DANGER

Party of One Hundred Captured By Mexican Rebels.

Mexico City, Sept. 15.—Including a number of women and children, one hundred Americans, refugees from Torreon, are reported to have fallen into the hands of rebels while proceeding overland to Saltillo. The authorities at Saltillo decline to take the responsibility of sending a force to their rescue fearing, they say, that the rebels might commit atrocities on the refugees which might otherwise be avoided.

The report comes from an official source at Saltillo, but has not been confirmed. The American embassy has been advised and has called on the Mexican foreign office to investigate the matter and do whatever is possible to relieve the Americans should the report prove true.

The Americans are headed by Deputy Consul General J. C. Allen of Monterey, who went to Torreon to notify American residents there of President Wilson's warning to leave.

CONFIDENT OF ACQUITTAL

Governor Sulzer's Final Statement Before Trial Begins.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Governor Sulzer has broken a long silence. He said: "I am going to be acquitted. I will have a fair trial."

"I have said some hard things about some of the senators, and they have said some hard things about me, but this is a trial, not a political fight. They are both judges and jurors, and I believe most of them are large and honest enough to rise above any personal feeling they may entertain toward me because of what I have said about them and to do me justice, and that is all I want."

These are the final words of Governor Sulzer before his trial opens before the high court of impeachment on Thursday.

SHOW RAILROAD EXPENSES.

Reports From 159 Carriers Are Received by Commerce Commission.

Nearly 3,000 miles were added during the year closing Aug. 21 to the roadway of steam railroads of the country earning less than $1,000,000 a year, according to a statement issued by the interstate commerce commission at Washington. Reports were received from 159 railroads, and these show that the average number of miles operated during the year was 203,695, compared with 200,986 for the corresponding period of the year previous.

The total operating expenses were reported to be $2,823,555,873 for the year as against $2,543,782,711 last year. The net revenue per mile is given as $4,286 as against $3,944 last year.

New Record For Guillaux.
Maurice Guillaux, the French aviator, who flew from Biarritz to Brackel, Germany, Aug. 23, has been awarded the single day record of 859 3/4 miles. This beats the record for a straight course made last June by Marcel G. Brindejone des Moulins, who flew from Paris to St. Petersburg, by two and one-half miles.

"Clincher" Paint

We know a paint which holds to the wood like a driven nail. Seasoned lumber is porous. The pores are the empty sap-cells. White lead paint, which dries on the wood in the form of a solid, elastic film, fastens into these pores, and the whole coat of paint is actually riveted like armor-plate to the surface it decorates and protects.

Eckstein WhiteLead (Dutch Boy Trade-Mark) and Pure Linseed Oil

make the paint that spreads into a solid body. It becomes a part of the wood itself—an outer layer that preserves the life of the lumber.

We sell it as well as other painting requisites. Come in and have a talk with us about painting.

PLAN WAR TEST OF MARINE CORPS

Big Force Will Be Rushed to Cuba This Fall.

WILL PROVE READINESS.

Always Prepared For Emergency, Naval Officials Say, and Can Answer 'Call Within Two Hours—Philadelphia Station Considered Best Equipped For Fast Work.

While the United States marine corps has not been preparing for any particular emergency, officials now declare that that branch of the service has been made so mobile that on a few hours' notice it could start for any place its services were needed. This applies in general to the entire personnel of the corps, but more particularly to that portion stationed at Philadelphia. From that station the 1,000 marines in barracks there would be ready to take transport and sail on the shortest possible notice.

Ready on Two Hours' Notice.
So far as the men themselves are concerned, every one would be at his post with all his paraphernalia in two hours after the call came. Every man would be in line for the marine corps is the one branch of the fighting service of the nation which is filled up to the last man. Of the 9,922 marines, not counting officers, many more are stationed at Philadelphia than at any other point. At Norfolk there are almost 700, but many are recruits, not ready for service without at least ten weeks' training.

The especial preparedness of the marines at Philadelphia is due to the "advance base" training given them there. Speed is the element which enters, to a greater degree probably than any other, into this training. An hour's loss of time in reaching and holding some particularly desired strategic point in an enemy's territory or elsewhere might give the enemy an advantage which would engender weeks of hard fighting and maneuvering. For this reason the necessity of speed in answering every call is instilled by constant practice.

As to provisioning a transport to carry marines from Philadelphia, it was said that it would require some hours more than it would take the men themselves to get aboard. However, unless a call came at night, it is believed all the food needed for an extended trip could be taken aboard in considerably less than twelve hours time. Should a call come in the morning it is believed a transport could be on its way by nightfall or soon after.

Hancock to Be Transport.
A practical demonstration on a large scale of the efficiency of the new organization is soon to be made. The old army transport Hancock, for several years a naval receiving ship at New York, is being overhauled and turned into a transport. She is to be sent to Philadelphia, and some time next fall at a given signal the full resources of the "advance base" are to be called into operation.

A thousand marines are to be ordered on the transport, which will have been loaded with nonperishable food supplies, even wagons and possibly live stock, constituting a miniature army. This expedition will be rushed probably to Guantanamo. At every step the time will be taken to establish a standard for a successful landing expedition upon the shore of a hostile country.

JULY 4 LESS DANGEROUS.

Fewer Died From Celebrations This Year Than Ever Before.

Thirty-two persons died of Fourth of July celebrations this year, fewer than in any year since statisticians began recording the toll of fireworks. Figures gathered by the Journal of the American Medical association just published, compare this total to that of 466 in 1903, the first year the association counted the victims, and gave rise to the prediction that the "annual orgy of death and destruction soon will cease."

Of this year's victims, thirteen, most of them little girls, were burned to death when their clothing caught fire. Two of these accidents were caused by supposedly harmless "snapper" matches.

The nonfatal injuries this year were 1,131, as against 947 in 1912, and 3,983 in 1903.

The most notable reductions in the number of injured came from cities, where ordinances prohibiting the sale and use of fireworks are enforced. In the list, Boston, Newark, N. J., Milwaukee and Chicago appear most prominent.

The publication calls attention to the fact that more than 40 per cent of all casualties were in Pennsylvania, which reported 491 injuries, including nine deaths. Of this number 349 occurred in Philadelphia.

Made Head of Indian School.
Peru Farmer, a Choctaw Indian, has just been appointed head of the Armstrong Indian school of Oklahoma by Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs. Mr. Farmer succeeds G. E. Parker, recently appointed registrar of the treasury. Mr. Parker is also a Choctaw.

WOOD EXPORTS TO ORIENT FROM U. S. ARE GROWING.

Pacific Coast Products Taking Place of Native Supply.

Recent statistics indicate a marked increase in exports of lumber from the United States to the orient. More than a quarter of a million feet of American woods are reported as being used in Samoa, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands.

Heretofore, it is said, raw materials have been made up into finished articles in the United States, almost without exception, and exported as such. With the discovery by American manufacturers in the Philippines that they could import United States woods and make them up with profit there, wood using factories were built. Pacific coast woods, in consequence, are in many cases taking the place of the native woods with such picturesque names as apitong, teak, narra and yacal.

Douglas fir, according to the information collected by the United States forest service, is the principal wood exported from this country. It is said to be the favorite wood among insular manufacturers for flooring, ceiling, siding, cornice, shelving, finish and boat work. Makers of furniture demand California redwood and sugar pine, southern quarter sawed oak, eastern ash, sugar maple and western white pine.

Four woods, principally conifers and oaks, go into the construction of boats, for framing parts, masts, spars, interior trim, planking boat crooks and tiller handles. Meat blocks are made from sugar maple, which with sycamore supplies the entire demand in the United States. Wagon felines are made of white oak, and other parts of vehicles are manufactured from high grades of white ash and white oak.

$25,000 FOR EX-CONVICT.

Beneficiary Plans to Spend Fortune Uplifting Fallen Women.

Jesse McGregor of Pittsburgh, formerly of Lisbon, O., who has served a term in the Ohio penitentiary, will get about $25,000 on deposit in the German National bank of Pittsburgh. The money was left by the young man's father, Giles McGregor, late of Wellsville, O.

The will provides that if Jesse McGregor was pardoned from the penitentiary and lived a sober, upright life for a period of five years he was to get the bequest.

McGregor, after his pardon, went to Pittsburgh, where he has since been a resident, the agreement being that he was to remain out of the state of Ohio.

He had been sent to the penitentiary for being responsible for the death of Lizzie Ewing at Wellsville, O. Relatives opposed his pardon, hence the condition that he remain out of Ohio.

McGregor will devote the greater part of the heritage to ameliorating the condition of unfortunate women.

TOO MUCH LOOSE MONEY.

Rural Mail Carriers No Longer Obligated to Collect It.

Picking up loose money has grown to be such a hardship for the overworked rural free delivery carrier that the postoffice department has just issued an order warning reckless citizens against leaving loose coins lying around. Hereafter coins must be tied in bundles or inclosed in envelopes whenever the patron of a rural route wants stamps from a carrier and leaves the necessary amount in the wayside box.

"The attention of postmasters at rural delivery offices and of rural carriers," said Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Blakeslee, "is again directed to the fact that rural carriers are not required to collect loose coins from rural mail boxes."

"Patrons should inclose coins in an envelope, wrap them securely in paper or deposit them in a coin holding receptacle so they can be easily and quickly taken from boxes, and carriers will be required to lift such coins and, when accompanied by mail for dispatch, attach the requisite stamps."

SAYS WOMEN ARE NOT OPEN MINDED

Professor Hugo Munstersberg on Female Stubbornness.

CARD DOTS CONVINCE HIM.

Noted Harvard Psychologist Advances an Entirely New and Original Thesis on the Limitations of the Fair Sex. Women Not Fit For Jury Duty, Psychology Wizard Asserts.

Women everywhere are up in arms over the announcement of Professor Hugo Munstersberg, head of the psychology research department at Harvard university, that a series of psychological experiments convinces him that women are not fitted for jury duty.

The professor has advanced an entirely new and original thesis, "The Mental Stubbornness of Women," stating that his experiments show that women are unwilling to listen to argument and cannot be brought to change their opinions on any subject.

Describes His Experiments.

Describing a series of experiments with psychology classes in an article in the September Century, the psychology wizard says:

"It is evident that this tendency of the female mind may be advantageous for many social purposes. The woman remains loyal to her instinctive opinion. Hence we have no right to say that one type of mind is better than another. We may say only they differ and that this difference makes men fit and women unfit for the task which society requires for jurymen."

The experiment is described as follows: Cardboards on which were a certain number of black dots were held before a class of men, and they were asked to estimate the number of the dots.

Men Profited by Debate.

After five minutes of debate and argument the men again estimated the number. A second debate was held and again a guess made.

Of the men fifty-two voted right the first time, and seventy-eight were correct on the final vote, showing they had profited by debate.

When the experiment was tried out on a class of women forty-five voted right on the first vote, and after two five minute periods of discussion the correct answers still numbered forty-five, from which the psychology wizard concludes "the women had not learned anything from discussion" and "are apt to return to their first idea, however much is argued on the other side."

BIG GUNS GUARD CANAL.

Defenses at Panama, Long Under Way, Rapidly Nearing Completion.

Work on the Atlantic and Pacific defenses of the Panama canal fortifications is rapidly nearing completion. Most of the fourteen inch guns have been received at the canal zone, and the remainder are complete, ready for shipment. Several of the twelve inch mortars have already been set up.

On the western side of the Atlantic approach to Colon is Fort Slocum, and on the eastern side is Fort Randolph. In both of these forts are batteries of fourteen inch rifles and twelve inch mortars. Fort De Lesseps, nearer Colon, has two batteries of mortars. Maps and charts have been compiled showing the range and angle of fire of the great guns and the mortars. These contemplate private electric light and power plants and an extensive system of searchlights for night firing.

The hardest part of the work is done, according to army officials. The plans have been prepared and the pits practically constructed. The remaining work consists of simply following the lines already decided upon.

On the Pacific coast, at Fort Grant, are Batteries Newton, Merritt, Carr, Prince, Warren, Burnside, Park and Buel. In Fort Amador there will be Battery Smith and one which has not yet been named. Here there are twelve inch mortars, fourteen inch rifles and one sixteen inch gun.

Drainage and leveling of land will be necessary to accommodate the defenders of the fort from the land side. Some of this work has been done, but a great deal yet remains.

It is thought that the fortifications for both entrances of the canal will be ready for emergency action before the first ship passes through.

TOOTH 200,000 YEARS OLD.

Found in Chalk Pit Where Pliocene Skull Was Unearthed.

Little by little the secret is being probed of the mysterious woman of 200,000 years ago whose skull, found some months ago at Pitdown, Sussex, England, by Charles Dawson, fascinated and puzzled scientists the whole world over. Mr. Dawson has been indefatigable in his pursuit of the mystery ever since his discovery of the skull in a chalk pit, and he has now been richly rewarded.

While digging with two friends a few days ago one of the latter found a canine tooth belonging to the skull. In form it closely resembled the Smith-Woodward restoration, but is smaller in size and more pointed. It bears the same evidence of having chewed roots and gritty substances as the teeth already found in the jaw.

Mrs. Fussy—"Just look at those children playing out in the garden! They'll get all dirty, and then I'll have to scrub and rub to get their clothes clean."

Anty Drudge—"Oh, let them play and enjoy themselves. They're only children once, and you won't have to rub hard or boil at all if you use Fels-Naptha Soap."

Stop worrying about the work. There's an easy, pleasant way to do your work, and it's as quick as it is easy. Use Fels-Naptha Soap. It works best in cool or lukewarm water, saving the trouble of keeping up a hot fire to heat your water. It dissolves grease and takes out all kinds of stains. For the weekly wash, for all kinds of housework, Fels-Naptha Soap is the best friend and help that a woman can have.

Follow the directions on the Red and Green Wrapper. Better buy Fels-Naptha by the carton or box.

Don't buy water for bluing. Liquid blue is almost all water. Buy Russ Bleaching Blue, the blue that's all blue.

Plows, Cultivators, Harrows, Roller, Mowers, Hay Tedder, Rake and Loader, Corn Planters, Manure Spreaders, Wagons and a large amount of other implements and tools will be sold on September 17, at the sale of the personal property of the John Leisure estate at deceased late residence 3½ miles southeast of Carthage and 9 miles northwest of Rushville. Sale begins 8:00 a. m. 15743.

Keep Men at Home.

It is true today as it was in 1900 years ago that "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country." The lack of appreciation by home people has caused many a man to leave and seek a new community in which to begin an enterprise. Thus a new industry which might have helped this town to grow was lost because its people lacked faith in the home man. The man who goes away and succeeds is readily acknowledged by the people of his home town as a genius. Many an inventor and many a projector of new enterprises has had this experience; it is common, indeed, to all mankind. Persons in many communities have not sufficiently appreciated what their neighbors were accomplishing or could achieve and so many a man has gone elsewhere and found the recognition that was denied him at home. Give credit and backing to the home man. Have faith in him and encourage him. If this is done fully and freely it will go a long way toward keeping at home many a man who otherwise will go elsewhere to find moral and financial backing.

There is genius in this city as well as in any other. If you know of a man who has something to develop, don't let him go elsewhere. Help him to get a start right here. Commercial enterprises are a benefit, and we should have sufficient pride in this city to want it to grow.

It is felt that Col. Goethals' great achievement should be suitably recognized, and no doubt some one will soon be giving him an ornamental sideboard that is too big to go in the front door.

You may not have money enough after vacation to provide a square meal daily, but there is some satisfaction in thinking of all the things you didn't want on the hotel bill of fare.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About THE GOVERNOR'S TYPE.

(Crawfordsville Journal.)

Gov. Ralston in another of those numerous examples of dog Tray in bad company. The governor is a good man personally, clean in his private life, a church man, sincere no doubt in his declaration for things righteous. As a private citizen he has always been respected by the best citizens of his home community and as governor we would not wink at wrong doing—unless it was so mixed up in politics that he could quiet his conscience with the argument that the welfare of the state is so wrapped up in the Democratic party that it would not be right to attack even the wrong in that party for fear of weakening it. The governor being in bad company, that of Taggart, naturally many things of this kind come up and so while we may not expect any outrageous scandals to develop at least with the governor's knowledge, the state administration will lack independence and vigor. A sample of the Ralston policy is found in recent events. Race track gambling is suppressed in Porter county even though the militia had to be called out, but gambling in Orange county at the notorious French Lick resorts goes merrily on the year round with no restriction and in Terre Haute conditions are just as bad. Crawford Fairbanks, the Democratic brewer, holds forth at Terre Haute. Governor Ralston spent his summer vacation with Taggart at the seaside. Fairbanks is a part of the Taggart machine. It is through honest, clean, well intentioned men like Ralston that the political machines do their most insidious work.

HAS TO INSTRUCT COUNTY OFFICIALS

Inheritance Tax Investigator Says
People Are Slow to Learn Law's Provisions.

POWER DELEGATED TO JUDGE

State Inheritance Tax Investigator Albert M. Humke is finding it necessary to instruct county clerks, judges, treasurers and county assessors in their duties regarding the collection of inheritance tax under the law passed by the last legislature. The law went into effect May 1.

Humke says appraisement of real estate must be included as well as personal property. The new law requires the entire worth of the estate to be filed in court so that the judge will know whether the estate comes under the inheritance tax law. If it does then the court appoints an inheritance tax appraiser. This man may be appointed to look after all estates in the district or a different appraiser may be named for each estate.

The county treasurer makes the collections following the filing of the certificate in his office by the county clerk showing the amount of the estate. If the tax is paid in one year the state discounts five per cent. but if the settlement is continued eighteen months or over a 10 per cent penalty is added.

The case of Blackledge against Coleman, which has occupied the attention of the circuit court since last Friday was not finished today and will probably not go to the jury until late tomorrow. Some delay was experienced this afternoon in not having witnesses there when needed.

Notice of Election.

The members of the Rush County Farmer's Insurance Association are hereby notified to meet at the Assembly room in the court house in Rushville, Indiana, on Saturday, October 11, at 1:30 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing officers for the next ensuing year and for the transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting.

HOW TO HELP FARM WOMEN

This Will be Subject of Letter Secretary of Agriculture Will Address to Housewives.

HE WILL ASK FOR REPLIES

Women Are Expected to Reply With Individual or Community Answers.

David F. Houston, Secretary of Agriculture, within the next few days will address a letter to the women members of 50,000 farm households throughout the United States, requesting them to give him information as to how the department of agriculture can best serve the needs of the farm women.

These letters will be addressed "To Housewives in the Homes of the Official Crop Correspondents" and will be sent to the full list of crop correspondents for transmission to the women members of their households. With each letter will be supplied a return envelope in which the women can forward their suggestions.

This inquiry results from the receipt of a letter addressed to the secretary in which the writer said:

"The farm woman has been the most neglected factor in the rural problem and she has been especially neglected by the national department of agriculture."

This letter was written not by a woman but by a broad-minded man so thoroughly in touch with the agricultural and domestic needs of the country that his opinions have great weight. Following the receipt of this letter, the secretary determined that the best way for the department to learn how to give these women the fullest possible aid and service which their important place in agricultural production warrants, was to write to the women themselves and ask them to make their own suggestions.

In the letter these women are invited to give individual answers to the letters or to discuss the matter in their church societies or women's organizations and submit answers representing the combined opinions of the women of their entire communities. The answers are requested not later than November 15th and this date is set because it will give the women time after harvest to consider the matter and discuss it with their women neighbors.

This letter will go to about twenty leading farms in each of the twenty-eight hundred counties of the United States. Their answers, it is expected, will represent the views and opinions of upwards of 500,000 farm women. These answers will be carefully considered by the specialists of the department having to do with that branch of agricultural activity.

PUTTING IDEAS INTO EFFECT

Perhaps you have cherished business plans which require the viewpoint, possibly the financial help of a resourceful bank.

The Rush County National Bank, has, in the past, assisted many business men in putting well conceived and worthy plans into effect.

While adhering always to its policy of capitalizing no business enterprises, that being quite apart from the objects of a conservative bank, its officers are always glad of an opportunity to discuss the ways in which this bank can assist in carrying forward legitimate business plans.

leave because of criticisms which had been made. He declared that he realized criticism was like a mosquito bite—it stings but it is not very serious.

The Rev. Mr. Wylie said that he felt that he did not have the sympathy of the leaders of the church. In his effort and desire, he continued, to bring about a more effective organization and a more aggressive influence, there had not been that cordial support among the church leaders that was necessary.

With the very best of feeling for everyone and no criticism for anyone, he said that he felt it was time to go. The Rev. Mr. Wylie said he had discussed this step with the Rev. V. W. Tevis, district superintendent, and later with Bishop Anderson.

The Rev. Mr. Wylie came here two years ago from the Capitol Avenue M. E. church in Indianapolis. He has made many friends here who regret to hear that he will leave. That he is an excellent minister and pastor is attested by his success with the influential congregation in Indianapolis.

will probably dispose of a like amount.

Mrs. Tom Dill, living north of the city, has furnished the best quality of apples that have been shipped from here this season, J. C. King the next best and Oliver Ridout the third best. William M. Ormes, living southwest of the city, has furnished the best plums brought to the local market and Seth Moore the best peaches.

George Smith, living a short distance east of the city, is reported to have one of the best apple crops in Rush county this year, yet the whole crop is going to waste.

The peach and plum crop was never so bountiful in Rush county, it is generally agreed. The class of both of these crops is excellent. Shippers believe there are more than enough peaches to supply the demand here if they are marketed.

"I never saw general conditions better," remarked a farmer today. "The ground is in the best condition to receive the wheat seed that I ever saw. It is not too hard. The last rain fixed the soil just right for the reception of the wheat seed."

"The prospect for a good corn crop was scarcely ever better in Rush county. The stalks are standing up better than I ever saw them. With the crop short in the great corn raising states, Rush county farmers ought to reap a harvest off this crop alone."

AGED COLORED MAN DEAD

John Simpson, 85 Years Old Passed Away Last Night.

John Simpson, colored, 85 years old, died last night at seven o'clock at the home of his half-brother, William James, in East Seventh street. Mr. Simpson had been ill a few days suffering from heart trouble and this together with senility caused his death. He had lived with Mr. James for a number of years. He is survived by two children, the Rev. William Simpson of Michigan and a daughter. The funeral arrangements have not been completed as the family awaits the arrival of the son from Michigan.

RELEASED FROM JAIL.

Issac Musselman of Knightstown, who was fined for shooting at his wife with intent to kill, and was given a suspended sentence in the Henry circuit court, was released from the jail in Newcastle Saturday after serving out his fine.

Cards were received here this morning announcing that a twelve pound boy had been born to the wife of Dave Small in Syracuse, N. Y., Mrs. Small was formerly Miss Sleeth Laughlin of this city.

KICKS ON COST HEARD

Law Causes More New School Books to be Bought.

Reports of discontent from over the state have reached the office of state superintendent of education about the expense to parents who have to buy many new books this school year. The last legislature passed a law making the state superintendent responsible for the selection of text books, the effect of the act being to make texts uniform throughout the State. Many old books were discarded and the law hit particularly hard the poor student. In most cases where a change was ordered second hand copies of the necessary text could not be obtained.

Instead of $140 an acre as was stated last week was received for the George A. Looney farm east of here, the price paid was $146.22 per acre. The total received for the farm was $15,500. Isaac Leopole of near Wolcott, White county, was the buyer.

Amusements

The Princess will show a Vitagraph drama "The Spirit of the Orient" for the first picture tonight. Maurice Costello and Clara Kimble Young are featured in this production. The other is an Edison comedy "Winsome Winnie's Way."

Tonight's program at the Palace includes two stirring dramas, "The Last of the Madisons" and "Behind the Gun," also a dandy comedy, "Bobby's Magic Nickel."

The Portola will show the usual three pictures tonight. "The Carpenter" is the title of the first, a Vitagraph drama featuring Lillian Walker. The second is an Edison comedy "His Mother-in-Law's Visit." The last picture is a Pathe drama entitled "The School Ma'am."

Manager Middleton of the new Columbia theatre, Indianapolis, offers as his attraction commencing Monday matinee, September 22d, Ben Welch, and his own splendid company of Burlesquers. No star of the comedy stage bears the distinction as a clever performer, more deservingly than does "Benny Welch," who is known to every theatergoer throughout the length and breadth of this country and Europe. An announcement of his appearance at the head of his own company should be a veritable theatrical event. His offering is not alone a "Phun-Phest" but a musical festival as well. No less than two dozen genuine song hits are sung with gorgeous and scenic costume effects, by Ben himself, his associate players, and the big beauty chorus of twenty-five stunning girls.

The costumes were designed by Will Barnes and made by Furman. The musical numbers, of which there are twenty, were written by the writers of song hits, John Arthur and Harry Von Tilzer, and the entire production was staged by James Gorman. The first part, "Cupid's Love Pill" and the burlesque, "Girls of the U. S. A.," are new, clean and novel. The entire production demands recognition from the theatergoing public, and its unparalleled success has shown that the stamp of approval has been affixed already. Besides Ben Welch, the cast will include: James Rosen, formerly of "The Newlyneds" and "Buster Brown"; Florence Rother, prima donna; Emma O'Neill, the well known singer of coon songs; Frank Murphy, Pat Kearney, Helen Delaney, Frankie Martin, 20 American Zuoaves, and a singing and dancing chorus of twenty-four and an augmented orchestra under the direction of Ben Bergman.

FAIR DIRECTORS MEET.

The directors of the Rush County Fair association held a little informal meeting in the court house Saturday afternoon. Nothing definite concerning the financial condition of the association will be known until the treasurer, J. V. Young, makes his report next month.

The Ladies Aid society of the U. P. church will meet with Mrs. A. W. Jamieson tomorrow afternoon. All members are urged to be present.

The Husbands of Edith

By GEORGE BARR M'CUTCHEON

Copyright by Dodd, Mead & Co.

"My dear Miss F-Powder," began Odell-Carney in his most suave manner.

A Small Package Passed into the Huge Paw of the Man.

ner, "It is after 2 o'clock. In—in the morning at that. You—you shouldn't be sittin' here all 'lone this—this hour in the morning. Please come home with us. Your mother has—has ask us to fetch you—I mean your sister. Beg pardon."

"I—I cannot go, gentlemen," she stammered. "Please don't insist—please don't ask why. I cannot go"—
"I shay, Constance, by Jove, the joke's on you," exclaimed Freddie. "I know who 't ish you're waitin' f-for. Well, he can't come. He's locked in." "Freddie, you are drunk!" in deep scorn.

"I know it," he admitted cheerfully. "We've looked ever'where for you. We're your frien's. He said it was at 'n eatin' house. We've been ever' eatin' house in Inchbrook. Was he first of all. Leave it to Rodney. Wassen we, Rodney? You bet we was. You wasen here at 'leven o'clock. Come on home, Constance. 'S all right. He's safe. He can't come."

"But he will come, unless something terrible has happened to him," she almost sobbed in her desperation. "Cousin Alfred, won't you go to the jail and see what has happened?" "Permit me," interrupted Odell-Carney with grave dignity. "Your friend, Miss Fowler, is not in jail. He is out!"

"Not in jail!" she almost shrieked. "I knew it! I knew it could not go wrong. But where is he?"

"He's out on bail. We bailed him out at half past 10—Wot!" She had leaped to her feet with a short scream and was clutching his arm frantically.

"On bail? At half past 10? Good heavens, then—then—oh, are you sure?" "Positive, absolutely."

"Then what has become of my 9,000 crowns?" "You c'n search me, Constance," murmured Freddie.

"I don't know what you're talkin' 'bout, Constance," said Mr. Rodney in a very hurt tone. "We—we put up security fr five thous'n dollars, that's what we did. This is all the thanks we getsh for it. Ungrateful!"

Constance had been thinking very hard, paying no heed to his maudlin defense. It rapidly was dawning upon her that these men had secured her lover's release on bail at half past 10 o'clock, an hour and a half before she had given her bribe of 9,000 crowns to the jailer. That being the case, it was becoming clear to her that the wretch deliberately had taken the money knowing that Brock was not in the prison and with the plain design to rob her of the amount. It was a transaction in which he could be perfectly secure; bribing of public officials is a solemn offense in Austria and Germany. She could have no recourse, could make no complaint. Her money was gone!

"Where is Mr. Br—Mr. Medcroft?" she demanded, her voice full of anxiety. If he were out of jail why had he failed to come in the meeting place? "He's locked in," persisted Freddie.

"That's just it, Miss Fowler," explained Odell-Carney glibly. "You shее—see, it was this way: We got him out on bail on condition he'd 'pear tomorrow morning 'fore the magistrate. After we'd got him out he insisted on coming 'round here so's he could run away with you. That wassen a genelmanly thing to do after we'd put up our money. We coul'n' afford have him runnin' away with you. So we had him locked in a room on top floor of the hotel, where he can't get out 'n' leave us to hold the bag, don't you see. He almos' cried an' said you'd be waitin' at the church or—or something like that bally song, don't you know, an' as a lash reshoot, to keep him quiet like a good ferrer feller, we said we'd come an' get you an' 'splain everything sassis-sasfac abem! sassis-fac'ly."

She looked at them with burning eyes. Slow rage was coming to the flaming point. And for this she had sat and suffered for hours in a street restaurant! For this! Her eyes fell upon the limp horses and the dejected stable boy. Two hours!

"You will release him at once!" she stormed. "Do you hear? It is outrageous!"

Without another word to the dazed trio she rushed to the curb and commanded the boy to assist her into the saddle. He did so, in stupid amazement. Then she instructed him to mount and follow her to the Tirol as fast as he could ride. The horses were tearing off in the darkness a moment later.

CHAPTER XIV. The Prodigal Husband.

THE unlucky Brock, wild with rage and chagrin, had paced his temporary prison in the top story of the Tirol from 11 o'clock till 2, bitterly cursing the fools who were keeping him in durance more vile than that from which they had generously released him. He realized that it would be unwise to create a disturbance in the house by clamoring for freedom, because, in the first place, there already had been scandal enough, and, in the second place, his distrustful bondsmen had promised faithfully to seek out the devoted Connie and apprise her of his release. He had no thought, of course, that in the meantime she might be duped into paying a bribe to the guard.

Not only was he direfully cursing the trio, but also the addleheaded Medcroft and his own addepatated self. It is to be feared that he had harsh thoughts of all the Medcrofts, as far down as Raggles. His dream of love and happiness had turned into a nightmare; the comedy had become a tragic snarl of all the effects known to melodrama.

It occurred to him at 2 o'clock that pacing the floor in the agony of suspense was a very useless occupation. He would go to bed. Morning would bring relief and surcease to his troubled mind. Constance was doubtless sound asleep in her room. Everything would have been explained to her long before this hour. She would understand. So, with the return of his old sophistry, he undressed and crawled into the strange bed. Somehow he did not like it as well as the cot in the balcony below.

Just as he was dropping off into the long delayed slumber, he heard a light tapping at his door. He sat up in bed like a flash, thoroughly wide awake. The tapping was repeated. He called out in cautious tones, asking who was there, at the same time slipping from bed to fumble in the darkness for his clothes.

"Sh!" came from the hallway. He rushed over and put his ear to the door. "It is I. Are you awake? I can't stay here. It's wrong. Listen. Here's a note—under the door. Good night, darling! I'm heartbroken."

"Thank God, it's you!" he cried softly. "How I love you, Constance!" "Sh! Edith is with me! Oh, I wish it were morning and I could see you. I have so much to say."

Another querulous voice broke in: "For heaven's sake, Connie, don't stand here any longer. Our reputations are bad enough as it is. Good night—Roxbury!" He distinctly heard the heartless Edith giggle. Then came the soft, quick swish of garments and the nocturnal visitors were gone. He picked up the envelope and, waiting until they were safely down the hall, turned on the light.

"Dearest," he read, "it was not my fault and I know it was not yours. But, oh, you don't know how I suffered all through those hours of waiting at the cafe. They did not find me until after 2. They were drunk. They tried to explain. What do you think the authorities will do to me if they find that I gave that horrid man bribe money? Really, I'm terribly nervous. But he won't dare say anything, will he? He is as guilty as I, for he took it. He took it knowing that you were free at the time. But we will talk it over tomorrow. I've just got back to the hotel. I wouldn't go to bed until Edith brought me up to hear your dear voice. I am so glad you are not dead. It is impossible to release you tonight. Those wretches have the key. How I loathe them! Edith says the hotel is wild with gossip about everything and everybody. It's just awful. Be of good heart, my beloved. I will be your faithful slave until death. With love and adoration and kisses. Your own Constance."

"P. S. Roxbury has not made a sign. Edith is frantic."

Several floors below the relieved and ecstatic Brock, Mrs. Medcroft was soon urging her sister to go to bed and let the story go until daylight. She persisted in telling all that she had done and all that she had endured. "We must never let him know that we actually gave that wretch nearly $2,500, Edith. He would never forgive us. I admit that I was a fool and a ninny, so don't tell me I am. I can see by the way you are looking that you're just crazy to. It's all Roxbury's fault, anyway. Why should he get up and make a speech in London without letting us know? Just see how it has placed us! I think Mr. Brock is an angel to do what he has done for you and Roxbury. Yes, my dear, you will have to confess that Roxbury is a brute—a perfect brute. I'm sure, if you have a spark of fairness in you, you must hate him. No, no! Don't say anything, Edith. You know I'm right."

"I'm not going to say anything," declared Edith angrily. "I'm going to bed."

"Edith, if you don't mind, dear, I think I'll sleep with you." After a moment of deep reflection she added plaintively: "There is so much that I just have to tell you, deary. It—it won't keep till daylight."

Bright and early in the morning the tired, harassed night farers were routed from their rooms by a demand from the management of the hotel that they appear forthwith in the private office. This order included every member of Mr. Rodney's party, excepting the Medcroft baby. Considerably distressed and very much concerned over the probable outcome of the conference, the Rodney forces made their way to the offices—not altogether in an open fashion, but by humiliatingly unusual avenues. The Rodney family came down the back stairs. Brock was solemnly ushered through the public office by Mr. Odell-Carney and Freddie Ulstervelt. It is not stretching the truth to say that they were sour and sullen, but, as may be suspected, from peculiarly different causes. At last all were congregated in the stuffy office, very much subdued and very much at odds with each other. Mr. Githens was there. Likewise the gentleman from the bank and a prominent person from the department of police.

Miss Fowler glanced about uneasily and was relieved to discover that her treacherous jailer was not there to confront her with charges. It had occurred to her that he might, after all, have tricked her into committing a crime against the government.

It was quite noticeable that Mrs. Rodney and Katherine did not speak to the Medcroft contingent—in fact, they ignored them quite completely. Mrs. Rodney was very pale and very deeply distressed. She cast many glances at the red eyed and sheepish Mr. Rodney—glances that meant much to the further torture of his soul.

"I am sorry to inform you, Herr Rodney, that the rooms which you now occupy and those of your friends are no longer at your disposal. They have been engaged for from some time this day by a—"

"Look here," interrupted Odell-Carney bluntly, "if you mean that we are not wanted here any longer, why not say so? Don't lie about it. We are leaving today. In any event, so wot's the odds? Now, come down to facts. Why are we summoned here like a crowd of school children?"

The manager looked at Mr. Githens and then at the police officer.

"Ahem! It seems that Herr Grabhetz of the police department desires to ask some questions of your party in my presence. You will understand, sir, that the hotel has been imposed upon by—by these people. It seems, also, that the bank insists upon having some light thrown upon the methods by which Mrs. Medcroft secures money on her letter of credit."

"You are welcome to all that, sir," declared Mr. Odell-Carney, "but I am interested to know just why my wife and I are brought into this affair." "Because you are guests of Mr. Rodney, sir, I regret to state. We have no complaint against you, sir. You are well known here. The—the others are not. They are—what you call it? Humbugs! It may be that they also have swindled you!"

GIRL'S SLAYER WAS A PRIEST

Confession Clears New York Murder Mystery.

GIRL WAS RECTORY SERVANT

Gotham Police in the Arrest of an Assistant Priest of St. Joseph's Church, Clear the Mystery Which Has Attached to Finding of Dismembered Body of Young Woman in River, the Priest Making Full Confession.

New York, Sept. 15.—An assistant priest of St. Joseph's Catholic church at 405 W. 125th street, Hans Schmidt, was arrested Sunday and confessed that he had murdered and then dismembered the body of a girl, parts of whose body have been found in the North river during the past week.

Francis D. Day, who had "identified" the few parts of the dismembered body of the girl as his sister, admitted later that he was mistaken.

The murdered girl, whose name was Anna Aumuller, was a servant in the pastoral residence of the Rev. Father Braun, pastor of St. Boniface's church, on the southeast corner of Forty-seventh street and Second avenue, where Schmidt, from December, 1910, until May, 1912, was a curate. Schmidt's only explanation to the police of the cause of the murder was that he "loved Anna."

Catholic church authorities of the New York diocese held a conference after receiving reports of an interview with Schmidt in the Tombs by the Rev. Father Evers, to learn whether or not Schmidt really is a priest of the Catholic church. Schmidt made statements to Father Evers about being "ordained a priest by St. Elizabeth of Hungary, who told me to kill Anna as a sacrifice of blood." He made many more wild statements that incline to the belief that he is insane. There are reasons to believe, according to the church authorities, that Schmidt is an impostor. For some years, however, he has performed the duties of a curate at the two churches in New York, at Trenton and at St. Louis, and according to his own story he was a priest in Germany before coming to America from Bavaria in 1907.

Throat Cut While She Slept.

Schmidt, according to Assistant District Attorney Murphy and Police Inspector Faurot, confessed that he entered a four-room flat which he had rented on the third floor of the apartment house at 68 Bradhurst avenue, at midnight on Sept. 2, and cut the Aumuller girl's throat while she slept.

He tasted the blood then, he says. When he was sure the girl was dead he dragged her body to the bathroom of the apartment and there dismembered it. Then he wrapped the parts of the body up in five or six pieces, and when daylight came he took the packages aboard Fort Lee ferryboats during several trips and dropped the packages overboard.

These trips, so he told the police in his confession, took up the better part of the day following the murder and the next. Toward dusk of the second day, while trying to wash away all signs of his crime from the flat, he came across a part of the mattress which was so soaked with blood that he could not obliterate the stains. Whereupon, Schmidt told the police, he took the stained cloth of the mattress at nightfall to a vacant lot and burned it. From that evening, which was Sept. 4, he has been performing his duties as priest at St. Joseph's church, baptizing a child as late as last Saturday and hearing confessions on Saturday also.

Schmidt came to Father Braun, the pastor of St. Boniface's said, in December, 1910, from Trenton. "If any intimacy between Anna and Father Schmidt began while they were both here, it must have been while I was in Europe," said Father Braun. "Certainly I never say anything wrong."

Father Braun said that in May, 1912, Schmidt told him that he had decided to go back to Germany. Schmidt was busy with his packing when word came that an assistant priest was needed temporarily at St. Joseph's church. Schmidt went to St. Joseph's, supposedly to stay only a short while, but liked the place so much that he remained there until arrested for the murder of Anna Aumuller Sunday morning.

PROGRESS ON TARIFF BILL

Important Measure to Become a Law 'by October 1.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Chairman Simmons of the senate finance committee believes that the conference committee of the senate and house should get through with its work this week and be able to report the bill back to the two houses next week.

Three or four days will then be required in each house in debate on the conference report before it is finally adopted, and then the bill will have to be enrolled, a work of some care that will take time in order to guard against mistakes before the bill can be sent to the president.

It is generally conceded that the tariff bill will become a law not later than Oct. 1, and probably within the last week of September.

CARDINAL LOGUE

Primate of Ireland Goes With Pilgrims to Lourdes.

GROTTO OF LOURDES IS SCENE OF CURES

Pilgrims Greatly Excited By Occurrences.

Lourdes, Sept. 15.—At the shrine of the Virgin Mary here new cures are claimed to have occurred Sunday on the fifteenth anniversary of the laying of the foundation of the church which stands in the grotto where the apparition of the Virgin Mary is said to have been seen by a peasant girl some five years previously, and the crowds of seekers after the performance of miracles are thrilled with excitement.

Mme. Bourneay, aged fifty-one, a French pilgrim, who has been completely crippled with rheumatism for four years and who crawled along on crutches with the greatest difficulty, was returning from an early morning visit to the shrine, when she suddenly felt power returning to heretofore useless legs. The woman threw away her crutches and walked easily and painlessly.

A Belgian girl named Jeanne Bodet, nine years old, who has been deaf and dumb and suffering from St. Vitus dance for three years, as the result of scarlet fever, visited the shrine on Saturday. While dressing herself Sunday the girl startled her mother by exclaiming "I have lost my shoe." The child continues speaking and shows none of the former twitching of St. Vitus dance. She now hears normally in her left ear, but the right one is still somewhat defective.

Thomas Downey, aged thirteen, of Belfast, Ireland, who accompanied the 2,300 Irish pilgrims, was in an advanced stage of tubercular disease of the hip, and could barely hobble with crutches. He surprised his attendants on Saturday evening by saying he felt much stronger and after again visiting the shrine Sunday suddenly declared that he did not need his crutches and proceeded to walk without them. Grace Maloney, eighteen years old, of Killaloe, Ireland, who was suffering from a tubercular swelling of the knee which prevented her from walking, but who threw her crutches away on Friday after visiting the shrine, continues to be sound and well. Cardinal Logue, the primate of Ireland, is with the Irish pilgrims.

TOOK A HAZARDOUS CHANCE

Young Motorcyclists Tried to Beat Trolley Car to Crossing.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 15.—In a collision between a traction car and a motorcycle at Roanoke, Clarence Dennis, seventeen years old, was instantly killed and James Farrell, twenty years old, is dying in the Huntington hospital.

The car which struck the motorcycle was traveling at high speed through the town. The young men, who had an unobstructed view for a long distance of the approaching car, threw on all speed possible in an attempt to cross the track in advance of the car.

Oil on Troubled Waters.

San Francisco, Sept. 15.—Badly battered by a cyclonic storm on Sept. 2, the United States army transport Logan has arrived here. The seas swept the bridge. Officers were lashed to their posts of duty. The vessel rolled like a cork until oil in great quantities was thrown over and lessened the rolling.

SUPERBAS WERE HANDED BLANK

Arcadians Defeated Cincinnati Team
in Pitcher's Battle by 1 to 0 Score.

NEW TWIRLER DELIVERED

Vedder Proved a Sensation and Held Visitors Safe All Way—
Was Great Game.

Some three or four hundred fans, who did not attend the game yesterday between the Arcadians and the Superbas of Cincinnati, missed a real ball game and the handful that did attend witnessed one of the best games of the season. Rushville won 1 to 0. It was an air-tight game and Rushville had to play regular baseball to win.

The game was featured by fast fielding on both sides but the main thing that the fans liked was the work of the pitchers and especially that of Vedder, the new twirler of the Arcadians. The little fellow proved a wonder and with fast work behind him the Cincinnati team got only one man as far as third and that was in the ninth inning. Vedder stood the Superbas on their heads and then laughed at them. He has all kinds of curves and plenty of steam. Everything the boy had yesterday broke to perfection and until the eighth inning it was one, two three for the Superbas as only three men faced him in each inning up until this inning.

Vedder was brought out here by John Spinney of Cincinnati in place of Stanford, who was supposed to pitch. Stanford could not come and the fans wonder if he could have made a good job of it as Vedder. Vedder let the Cincinnati team down with four hits. Two of these came in the ninth. The visitors had a chance to tie the score in the ninth. Two singles in a row and then a fast double play cut down their chance but with a man on third a coacher tried to draw a throw from Mattern by running down the line and the man on third was called out, ending the game.

While the work of Vedder was one of the big features, the Superbas also had a pitcher. Rushville connected safely but three times and after the second he did not allow a hit. Geary, however was a little unsteady. The Arcadians' lone run came in the second. Mattern flew to the third baseman. Bridgeman doubled to right and scored when Nick Tompkins came across with a timely bingle. Vedder struck out the first two men that faced him and in the third all three were victims of his curves. Vedder not only pitched winning ball but used his head along with it. In the seventh with one man out Sefferino was safe on Valentine's error and took second on the throw. McCann hit one to the pitcher. Vedder instead of throwing to first and allowing Sefferino to take third, ran him down between second and third. It was a good play and had he not gotten Sefferino he would have held him on second.

In the fourth the Arcadians threatened to score. Mattern struck out. Cook was given a base on balls and stole second. Tompkins was safe on the third baseman's error and Cook took third. With two down Vedder failed to connect safely and two were left on. From the very start Vedder pitched shut out ball. In the eighth the visitors got a man as far as second, the second time during the game, but when a hit was needed Vedder tightened up and it was all off. Up until the start of the ninth the best the Superbas could get was two scattered hits off Vedder and the two singles in the ninth counted little as they failed to score.

The Arcadians played a swell game in the field and the three errors charged against them did not prove costly. Tompkins pulled one from Tedesco's bat in the sixth that looked like a sure goner. Nick got the ball after a hard run and after doing a juggling stunt caught in with his bare hand. Old reliable Nick was also there with the hit that scored the locals one run.

Notes of the Game

Vedder sure won a home with the fans. He proved to be a real pitcher and for a little fellow has remarkable curves and speed. He also had that old command stuff, as Mattern calls it.

John Spinney, president of the Spinney League and recognized as authority in semi-pro ball in and around Cincinnati accompanied the Superbas here. He is not the manager but the team was one of those in his league last year. Spinney was also connected with the Kansas City Federal league team.

He made an effort to secure Sanford, late of the Kansas City Feds for the locals but failed. He stated before the game that in his estimation Vedder was one of the best pitchers in Cincinnati and it was only his size that kept him from the big show. His valuation of Vedder proved true as the score shows.

Flick, the Arcadians regular short stop, sustained an injury that kept him out of the game yesterday. Flick sent Valentine here in his place. Valentine proved a find and both will be kept. Valentine can also pitch as well as play in the infield.

Vedder will finish the season with Rushville. He has been playing with the Cincinnati Maroons and had promised to accompany that team to Louisville next Sunday but if he can get out of it will be here Sunday. He will let the management know today whether or not he can come. If he does not come next Sunday he will be here for the rest of the games.

The playing of the Arcadians was in improved form and the team looks good enough now to beat them all. The infield is fast and the outfield is just as good. While the team did not hit any yesterday it must be remembered that they were not up against any bum pitcher in that man Geary.

Not a sign of a hit did the Arcadians get after the second and had they not scored in that inning the teams probably would have been playing yet.

Bridgeman, be it known, is also some pitcher. He came here yesterday from Goodland, Ind., where he pitched that team to a victory over the Union Giants of Chicago, Saturday. It was a jump of 140 miles and he almost missed connections.

A three game series with Connorsville is pending. Connorsville has been going good under the new management and the games should attract attention.

ARLINGTON WON.

The Arlington Red Sox. defeated the Pilots, a fast Indianapolis team yesterday afternoon 8 to 2. The game was featured by the heavy hitting of the Arlington team.

Clell Maple has filed an account suit against Fred McCrory, administrator of the estate of Perry McCrory, demanding $75. A similar suit demanding $240 has been filed by Lee Link.

A LITTLE READY MONEY

MEANS much to the man or woman who must earn their own living. The need of it is always present: now and then it is needed very badly. Sickness or accident may stop your earnings for a while. You may want money to build a home, or to take advantage of a good investment. Opportunities often come to the man with ready money. It is the only sure protection against poverty or want.

HOW TO GET IT

BY saving a little every month. It isn't what you earn, but what you save—which increases your fund of wealth. Strange as it may seem, it is the wage earners of this country who save the most money. The wage earner works hard for what he gets and he knows its value. As the years slip by, they bring around a time when his power to earn grows less and his need of money grows more. That time will surely come in the life of each one of us. Are you preparing for it by opening a SAVINGS ACCOUNT with

PROPOSES LEAGUE FOR NEXT SEASON

John Spinney Would form Organization With Twelve Clubs, Giving Rushville a Berth.

WOULD HAVE SIX ROAD TEAMS

John Spinney of Cincinnati accompanied the Superba team to this city yesterday and incidentally brought out the real purpose of his visit. Spinney has a league project up his sleeve that he sprung on the local management yesterday. He would organize a twelve league circuit with Rushville as one of the cities in the league. The proposed plan is to have six road teams and six home teams. The road teams would be composed of the best teams out of Cincinnati and suburbs and these teams would play two games apiece at every city in the league. After these series of games had been played then the cities with the home teams could mix it up for the championship.

Spinney has had great success with semi-pro leagues and his plan met with favor here. The fans would be assured a first class article of ball and he figures that the league would create great interest. Nothing definite was decided yesterday but the plan will probably be pushed and an organization formed.

A large attendance of the Royal Neighbors at the regular meeting tonight is desired.
